school for girls • philadelphia, penna.

The mark of a person is determined by those who know him. We, the Class of 1968, have had a great opportunity in knowing Mrs. Odette D. Harris. Whether it be in the classroom, formal meeting, or chance encounter in the halls of William Penn, we have come to respect our Principal's warm smile and firm but understanding ways. Though she has been with us just a short time, her wise leadership and encouragement have made our stay here a more valuable one.

We are better individuals for having known her, and we fondly dedicate this TORCH to Mrs. Odette D. Harris.

dedication

Dear Young Ladies of Tomorrow:—

It has been a real pleasure and an honor to serve as your principal in your senior year. I became part of your school readily because of you and what you represent. Your school has been a rich school in terms of the aspirations, achievements, and culture of its student body for many years. You of this senior class have held on to this rich heritage and have sought ways to further enrich it. Your antiquated buildings presented many problems for you while seeking the most satisfying educational experiences, but you overcame this one obstacle in most instances. Booker T. Washington stated, "Success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which he has overcome while trying to succeed." You have earned success if measured by this definition of the word.

A very important part of your educational program at William Penn was the Cultural Program. Our late President John F. Kennedy was very concerned about the Performing Arts and felt one was not a whole person unless one was exposed to the arts and developed an appreciation for them. Your school shared these feelings. Therefore, each young lady was encouraged to take advantage of the many opportunities afforded each month to attend one or more cultural event for a nominal fee. Will you remember the National Theatre Company that was brought to the school for all students to enjoy? What about the Young Audiences Percussion Concert in our own auditorium? The Afro-American Dance Group - did this group increase your appreciation for the Africans and their contribution to dance? Young ladies, the Performing Arts are a way of expressing feelings and providing quite often an insight into life. We are able many times to identify with a character in a play and find answers to our troubling questions. The mood set by a dance group, a song, or an instrumental selection very often expounds our feelings, thereby freeing our emotions to allow us to continue on life's path. The world into which you are about to enter in a more active role is beset with many real problems of man's ability to relate honestly, justly, humanly to each other. It is my hope that your Cultural experiences at school will serve to keep you forging ahead in the right direction.

In closing dear graduates, I wish to leave this thought with you — whatever you are, whatever you grow up to be; be the best there is.

ODETTE D. HARRIS

Principal

To the Class of 1968,

William Penn has always been proud of its cultural enrichment program. Therefore, I am happy to see that you have chosen it for the theme of your beautiful yearbook. Supplementing your basic education you have had a variety of experiences designed to sharpen your perception of beauty with the hope that you will treasure human and spiritual values above material assets. If this goal is realized your life will be enriched and the world a better place in which to live.

Dorothy Thompson

Friends of the Class of '68,

What is this thing called culture?

The dictionary defines it as enlightenment resulting from education. Henry Van Dyke refers to it as the habit of being pleased with the best and knowing why. Thomas Carlyle believes that the great law of culture is that we become all that we were created capable of being and expand to our full growth.

Your school has started you on this road. As you travel the journey of life, continue your education, be satisfied only with the best, and expect of yourself all that you were "created capable of being."

My sincerest wish is extended to each of you for happiness and fulfillment.

ACTIVITIES

Much of what has happened to us since we entered the halls of William Penn has been dimmed in our memories. But will we ever forget Moliere's satirical genius, the frenzied excitement of the Afro-American dancers, or "The World of Shakespeare?" And how about our own talented singers, dancers, artists and musicians? All have brought culture within our reach and made it a fulfilling part of our lives.
